

MeetingCom Pte Ltd
1 Shenton Way
#17-03
Singapore 068803

Tel (65) 6372 4388
Fax (65) 6234 6455

Email: info@MeetingCom.com

Corporate Overview

With companies worldwide moving rapidly towards globalization, corporations need to empower their employees with the right tools and information to make crucial and timely decisions.

Information has value when it can be shared and accessed throughout the entire organizations in a timely manner. As the business environment becomes more complex, decision-makers and executives need to communicate easily and effectively across different time zones and locations.

At MeetingCom, our sole business focus has been to provide the right tools and interface to enable our clients to communicate and make timely decisions.

MeetingCom seeks to extend a company's collaboration reach with the ability to see, talk and share with employees, customers and partners across the world in a cost-effective manner. Our considerable experience and expertise, backed by our strong technology partners, have helped organizations increase their productivity level as well as achieve communication goals and budgets.

Corporate Mission

To enable our client to see, talk and share information, across multiple locations, anytime, anywhere, in a cost effective manner.

Our History

MeetingCom was founded on 20th July 2000, with the vision of helping companies meet the ever-changing communication needs with a variety of cost effective and high quality collaboration solutions MeetingCom has always emphasized on customer satisfaction. Using a “win-win” partnership model, we have been successful in delivering value-added collaboration services to our customers.

Our Advantages

We understand that the value of a company's investments must be protected. Not only capital expenditure on communication solutions must provide a positive return of investment (ROI), they must be adaptable to your growing and changing needs. All our solutions and services are designed with this important objective in mind.

At MeetingCom, we differentiate ourselves from the competition by:

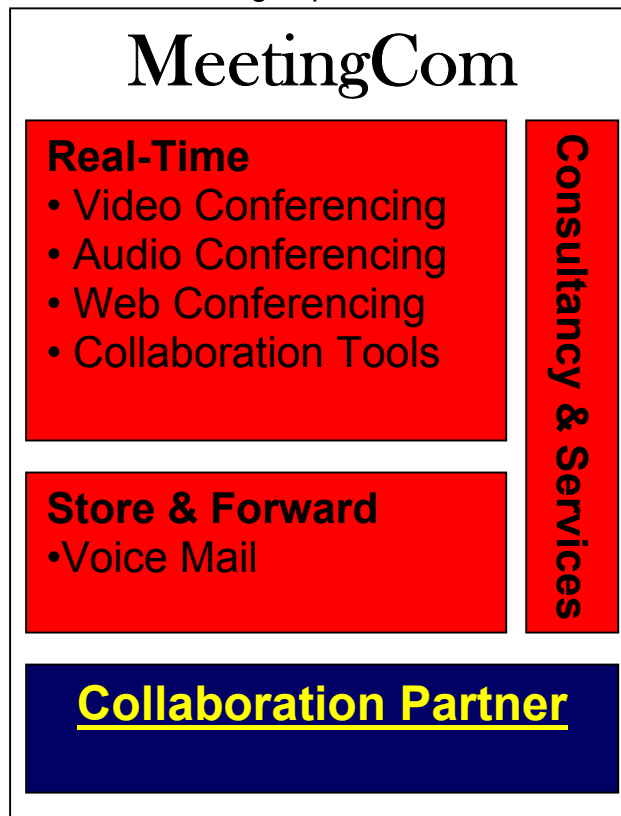

- Being a Total Collaboration Solution Provider
Depending on a company's needs and budget, we are able to provide:
 1. Video Conferencing
Enable organizations to see, talk and collaborate with each other for project and crisis management.
 2. Audio Conferencing
For businesses with the need to connect employees, customers and partners located across the globe.
 3. Web Conferencing
Interactive online meetings over the Internet provide instant information sharing and quick decision-makings in a secured environment.
 4. Voice Messaging System
Enable employees across the globe to communicate using store and forward collaboration technology, to overcome the barrier of multiple time zones.
 5. Collaboration Tools
Creating the ideal and natural environment for conducting real-time conferencing and collaborative meetings.
 6. Consultancy and Services
Provide professional design and innovative ideas for collaboration facilities.

- Offering Customized Solutions
We invest the time to understand the specific and unique needs of each client and propose solutions that matches its needs and budget. Video-conferencing session of organizations with remote locations can be complemented with audio-conferencing solutions by extending its reach beyond the meeting room.
- Adopting Innovative Approaches
We are committed to lower total cost of ownership of services to customers with creative and imaginative solutions offering and packaging.
- Providing Committed and Consistent Service
Dedicated team with the right attitude and understanding that each customer's needs and environment is unique and requires committed service level, to achieve ultimate customer satisfaction.

Our Customers

We serve a wide variety of organizations in the fields of finance, insurance, manufacturing, utilities and healthcare. Our customers are represented in a wide-ranging spectrum of video, voice and web applications.

We are glad to provide our customers with flexible and creative solutions, to help them realize a standard, reliable and scalable collaborative environment. More and more companies are turning to MeetingCom to help them achieve and deliver the ultimate conferencing experience.

Partial Customers List

